DETAILED ACTION

Response to Applicant's Remarks

Examiner acknowledges and appreciates the Information Disclosure Statement filed 9/22/2008.

Examiner acknowledges and appreciates the amendments to Figures 5 and 16.

Examiner acknowledges and appreciates the amendment to paragraph [0070].

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-20 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance, as previously seen in the Ex Parte Quayle of September 2, 2008:
3. With respect to claim 1; allowability resides, at least in part, with the prior art not disclosing or teaching a resonance frequency of the curved shape in in-plane stretching being set at a frequency equal to or higher than an audible frequency band, to insulate or absorb sound by elastic force of the film member, in conjunction with the remaining limitations within claim 1.

Art Unit: 2837

4. The reasoning with respect to claims 2, 6 and 7 mirrors that of claim 1 respectively, given they too recite the allowable limitation recited above.

5. The US patents to Date (6,075,308), Ghibu et al. (4,683,979), Bschorr (4,228,869), Lewis et al. (3,649,430), and Salyer et al. (3,399,103) teach similar structural elements as taught by the present invention, such as a film member being formed of polymer or metal, formed into a curved shape such as a dome, barrel or cone, and having a periphery of the curve fixed to another structure, such as a wall or frame. Date further teaches the effects of sound pressure force in relation to the frequency absorbed. However, none of the above cited prior art, nor any provided by the Examiner in the Notice of References Cited, teach the use of the resonance frequency, in in-plane stretching, to set a frequency equal to or higher than an audible frequency band to insulate or absorb sound by the elastic force of the film member; therefore, independent claims 1, 2, 6 and 7, and their dependent claims 3-5 and 8-20, are deemed allowable.

6. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
